Getting pork during the “Off Season”

The Salem Saturday Market may be coming to an end for the year, but you can still get your Red Wattle pork (and Red Ranger chickens) all year long. There are several options for you.

We can do farm gate pick-ups at our place just SW of Dallas. All you need to do is call or email with your “wish list” and we’ll find your items and meet you at the gate.

Or you can come to the Corvallis Farmer’s Market on Saturdays from 9-1 pm. The outdoor market is still on through Thanksgiving and the Corvallis Indoor Winter Market, also 9-1 pm on Saturdays, starts up the second week in January at the Benton county fairgrounds.

Lastly, we may be able to get your order to the Salem Public Market for you to pick up there. This option may take a couple of weeks to get organized as we would have to coordinate delivery to Henny Farms, so order early.

Thanks for the great season everyone. We appreciate your support during these crazy days and are thrilled we were able to keep you in pork for the market season.
